INVITATION TO SPONSORS

Dear Industry Leader,

VLSI2011, the 24th International Conference on VLSI Design and the 10th International Conference on Embedded Systems, will be jointly held at the Indian Institute of Madras, Chennai, Tamil Nadu, India, between January 2nd – 7th, 2011, with the theme “Embedded Solutions for Emerging Markets”.

The conference will provide a vibrant platform for a wide cross section of academic and working professionals to interact and exchange useful ideas. We are expecting participation by business leaders, academic scholars and engineers from all over the world. Typically over a thousand delegates participate in the conferences making it the largest of its kind – and the oldest flagship event in India. Here the 3 pillars of the domain -- Academia, Research and Industry -- come together with the common purpose of demonstrating their latest achievements, debating the state-of-the-art, and exploring possibilities & collaborations. The joint conference will act as a unique catalyst to accelerate the involvement of Indian companies in the VLSI design and embedded systems space.

At VLSI 2011, there will be several high caliber technical papers, topical tutorials, visionary keynotes and insightful panel discussions centered around the theme of the conference “Embedded Solutions for Emerging Markets”. The conferences will also show-case indigenous efforts from India through the acclaimed ‘Made For India’ framework at the informative Industry Forum. Also on display will be efforts from students, which have been carefully hand-picked by an eminent jury.

Please find below details of the sponsorship opportunities. I request your early decision to participate which will be invaluable for us in planning and ensuring that the conference will exceed your expectations. We will be glad to provide more details and work closely with you as needed, to ensure maximum returns to you as a sponsor.
